Toshiba is a diversified electric/electronic manufacturer founded in July 1875, which provides a wide range of products and services on a global basis in various business domains, such as Energy & Infrastructure, Community Solutions, Electronic Devices and Components, Lifestyle Products and Services and Healthcare Systems & Services.

Under management policy of "Growth Through Creativity and Innovation", we strive to create products and services in the field of smart community that enhance human life, and which lead to a thriving, healthy society. Toshiba presently sets three principal business domains of "Energy", "Storage" and "Healthcare", continually developing innovative technologies centering on these domains.

In China, Toshiba started business in 1972, soon after the restoration of diplomatic ties between China and Japan. Today, we have 84 group companies that participate in activities or business in China where about 35 thousands employees are working.

On the lecture, Toshiba's latest worldwide activities on business or R&D for Innovation on principal business domains, and works in China such as R&D or industry-university partnership will be introduced.
